Description

This Ibizan style finca from the year 1600 (15th century) is located in the area of San Jordi and is in very good condition. It faces south and has very wide walls, is cool in summer and keeps warm in winter thanks to two chimneys. The guest apartment is approx. 50 m from the main house. There is a very interesting stone tower from the period where you can create a room or a chill out or a winery as it is fresh and bright thanks to a natural skylight and from which you can see the sea and the rest of the horizon . The surrounding area is quiet and offers great views of the countryside and the sunset.
