Location

Description

This stunning Blakstad Finca is located on the highest point of a valley in the heart of the island and offers exceptional views of the surrounding countryside. The north-east facing, original old farmhouse was impressively renovated, modernized and expanded in the 1940s. According to the archaic folk architecture cubic forms and rustic simplicity are strongly represented. The property extends across white and red earth terraces with fertile farmland, on which abundant old olive trees, apple trees, medlar trees and a private orange grove flourish.
